

TOP TIPS FOR TEAM MOTIVATION

Walk your talk	Instead of talking about better communication start communicating better.
Be supportive	Discuss the weaknesses in the system without blaming individuals.
Be a leader with vision	True leadership requires foresight, integrity and trust on both sides.
Use straight talk	Straight talk means being able to communicate without alienation or hurt feelings.
Build supportive teams	Build teams within departments, and throughout the entire organisation, to allow open discussion of dreams and obstacles.
Encourage creativity and laugh at mistakes	When team members aren't afraid to take risks their creativity will soar.
Empower team members to feel liberated	Everyone within the team needs time alone, time to think. This allows the creative juices to flow.
Help team members feel comfortable with change	Learn how to "start again" and "let go" of ideas that may have worked in the past, but are no longer effective today.
Insist that team members always keep the customer in mind	You have a lot of competition. Make sure everyone knows why customers keep coming back. Customers are King or Queen!

Websites

simplicitytk.blogspot.com - "Top 100 leadership blog site"

www.successnet.org - free 10 page report on motivation

Books

Effective Motivation by John Adair

Simplicity is the key by Trevor Gay